NOTE

This list of additional references brings down to date that part of the "Select list of works relating to taxation of inheritances and of incomes" issued in 1907 which relates to incomes. The pagination continues the pagination of the original edition, so that it will be an easy matter to attach the supplement to the earlier part.

When printed catalogue cards exist for any work entered in the list, the Library of Congress card number is printed immediately after the entry at the left. On the same line to the right the class mark, where determined in the new classification, is printed in heavier type.

"Thus we reach the conclusion that of the three great taxes about which the controversy has now become so acute, the income tax ought to be levied by the Federal government and its proceeds utilized not only to diminish the burden of the national indirect taxes, but more especially in order to facilitate the reform of the State general property tax; and we reach the further conclusion that the corporation tax and the inheritance tax should be levied as national taxes by the Federal government, but under a clear understanding with the separate States that the proceeds should be distributed in whole or in greater part to them."
